

CII Recognition of Prior Learning
For MII Qualification
2015 – 2017
(Updated as at May 2016)

CII recognition of prior learning: Malaysian Insurance Institute qualifications updated : 17 May 2016

We are writing to advise our students of the change in the CII recognition of prior learning application (RPL) process from 1st January 2017 as follows:

1. The good news is that there is no change to the recognition of prior learning awards.
2. However, effective 1st January 2017, students can only claim RPL from CII after completing their qualifications. CII will accept applications for completed qualifications, for:
 - a. Certificate of The Malaysian Insurance Institute (CMII)
 - b. Diploma of The Malaysian Insurance Institute (DMII)
 - c. Associateship of The Malaysian Insurance Institute (AMII)
 - d. Pre-Contract Exam for Insurance Agents (PCEIA Part AB & AC)
 - e. Basic Certificate Course in Loss Adjusting (BCCILA)
3. In practice, this means that students completing the MII Diploma and Associateship may either:
 - a. On completion the Diploma and again on completion of the Associateship claim RPL; or
 - b. Claim RPL for both qualifications once when they have completed the Associateship.

Other information on CII RPL remains unchanged as per our announcement last year i.e. as of 1st November 2015. Alternatively you can refer to Appendix 1 below for more details.

Thank you and best wishes
